QUIHI NOTES

And Pharaoh said unto Joseph, See, I have set thee over all the land of Egypt; and (he) took off his ring from his hand and put it upon Joseph's hand, and arrayed him in vestures of fine linen, and put a gold chain about his neck... made him to ride in the second chariot... and they cried before him, Bow the knee! Gen. 41:41-43.

Prime ministers are not made that way in ordinary life. Not even in literary fiction or fairy-tales or in the eccentric impossibilities of dreamland. Yea, not even in the bombastic tragic-comical concoctions of the commercial radio screamers, fishing for your bottom dollar.

We know of fellows starting with "one shirt" at the lowest rung of the ladder, and then, by dint of honest toil and shrewd foresight, climbing to the top rung, amassing wealth beyond description. Not a few, in the literary world, starting almost penniless, have written themselves into fame and fortune. Artists in every field of their activity hold prominent, even "immortal" places, though their prospects, to begin with, had been more than doubtful. The various branches of military life, at all times, show splendid records of these that worked themselves up from low ranks to the highest positions. And, to be sure, in the political arena their numbers are beyond computation, who have started as smaller fry and later became conspicuous, eye-farous, some by public trust and choice, others by some back-stage maneuverings, despite the complex ambitions and competitions on their route.

It's vastly different with prime ministers. There must be background, pedigree, family traditions of the highest order, cultural rearing and professional training in a variety of preparatory portfolios, the offices and functions in lower positions until adequately equipped for the possible royal selection; and likewise holding the confidence of the ruling parties and the people at large.

Joseph had none of this. Not a single prerequisite. Rather had he everything else that made him definitely unfit for that high office. Who knew his family? Who cared to know? He was an outsider, a foreigner, brought in from somewhere with a malodorous bunch of slaves. Rumor had it that his character was below par. That episode with Madam Potiphar still hung in the air. The trial, if such there was, sustained her charges. A prison record is hardly a recommendation, no matter how good. And the prison had been his main headquarters for years. From there he had been summoned to the king and his glittering, flabbergasted retinue.

No schooling, no training, no professional experience, no connections, no political backing, a "dark horse", an interloper, an adventurer, at best, in the eyes of the initiated, high society and riffraff. A man, in general, as welcome as a cyclone or an earthquake. And the king, in sovereign style, appoints him prime minister, sets him over all Egypt (beyond the powers usually endowed with that office), publicly and solemnly, investing him with the insignia of that exalted position, ring, robes and golden chain about his neck, following up with a grand procession through the main streets of the city, where, for a once, the jostling, milling crowds had their eyes pinned on the second chariot, on Joseph, whose meteoric career, by this time, had been proclaimed and published and received open-mouthedly, till the marshal of the day and his heralds commanded with stentorian voice, Bow the knee! in due homage to the new favorite of his majesty.

And it is literally true. The Holy Book does not indulge in fiction and exaggeration or legendary tradition. And who will explain such a course and culmination? Not you or I. Let the prophet speak: This also cometh from the Lord... wonderful in counsel, and excellent in working. (Is. 28:29).

Do we still need that Lord? In our halcyon days one claimed, in substance: Our laws become more just, ruder humane, music sweeter, books wiser, homes happier, individual hearts more just and gentle; art, industry, invention, literature, learning and government, all these are captives marching in Christ's triumphant procession up the hill of fame!—True today? Joseph's sentiments were those of Asaph: It is good for me to draw near to God; I have put my trust in the Lord God (Ps. 73:28). Know we of something more dependable, "towering over the wrecks of time"? *

Those were pleasant hours that we spent with Mr. Edwin K. Grell while on his first furlough. A wide area was covered and the sights were rather attractive, though vastly different, of course, from the former independent schedule. May that airplane have safely arrived at its destiny in Oklahoma! Greetings! *

Our sympathy goes out to the mourners for Mrs. Henry Schulte, Sr. and for Martin Nietenhoefer. The families are widely known in this section. It reminds of the only refuge in such sad hours.

A veritable exodus has taken place from the country to the city with its attractive spell—and greater income. As far as we know, and our list is rather incomplete, Hondo now harbors, the Misses Darwine Haby, Angelina Groff, Effie Mae Balzen, Lucille Boehle and her brother, John Henry; Elton Lindberg chose San Antonio. Success to all of you! *

We found Miss Shirley Haby fast on the road to full recovery, not the least due to her good nurses, her mother and her sister. Also Mrs. Fritz Fuos, though still confined to bed, is rapidly coming back to her former self and happiness, after her ordeal in the big city. We know they are grateful. —It's a different story with Mrs. Alfred Schulte, who again had to take her quarters at the Medina Hospital, for a brief stay, we hope. I lift mine eyes to the mountains whence cometh my help! *

TRUCK-FREIGHT COLLISION HURTS SHERIFF

Sheriff J. D. Boales, 66, of Leakey, Real county, suffered a fracture of his collarbone Tuesday afternoon in a collision of a truck and Southern Pacific freight train at the San Marcos St. crossing in San Antonio. The sheriff was a passenger in a truck driven by W. N. Holmes, also of Leakey. The truck stalled on the railroad tracks and both men leaped clear when it was apparent that the engine was going to hit the truck. The truck was knocked off the tracks, however, and rolled upon Sheriff Boales, pinning him underneath. He was extricated by witnesses and rushed to Santa Rosa Hospital. The two men had been visiting the Union Stockyards shortly before the accident.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

I MISSED getting my hair cut this morning on account of the scrap collection.

When I climbed into the barber chair, Ray says to me:

"Sorry, Joe. Ain't got time for you today. We're closing up this morning at ten."

And then I remembered. This was the day the town had agreed to drop everything—and I mean everything—and collect scrap for Uncle Sam.

Yes sir, the drugstore, the corner garage, Sam Abernethy's general store—every place in town except the post office—closed up tight today from 10 to 5.

And you ought to see the result piled up in front of the fire house. One hundred and fifty tons of metal that had been lying around in attics, cellars and back yards of our town since Charlie Jenkins' great-grandfather joined up with the Texas Rangers.

That's almost 200 lbs. of metal for every man, woman and child in our town. Just shows you—when American citizens go out to do a job for Uncle Sam they do it right.

Judge Cunningham and I were talking about it this evening, sitting on the front porch and having a sociable beer together.

We agreed that the way this town went all out to collect scrap was a pretty good illustration of how Democracy works. No need to crack a whip... no need to pass a law... just self-determined folks working hand in hand to get a job done for their own people.

Because from where I sit, that's what we're fighting for—the right to work together—of our own accord. To do the job because we want to, not because somebody tells us to. And when the job's done, to relax as we see fit.

And the Judge agreed. He pointed out that one of the things that helps folks get together is just what we were doin' now.

It's great, after a good day's work, to be able to have a chat and a glass of beer if you want to.

Please help clear the LONG DISTANCE lines for war calls

MAKE FEWER AND SHORTER CALLS

Every morning, Army and Navy men and government officials must put through thousands of long distance war calls that help to move troops, procure supplies... and direct the fighting.

Every afternoon those same Army, Navy and government men, and men who make calls that help produce tanks, airplanes, ships and shells, must complete the day's wartime business.

Every evening after 7 p.m., the boys call home, telephoning in the few hours they have free. You know we can't get material to build more lines just now, and we know you will be glad to help make the most of what lines we have. So...

Morning, afternoon and evening, by making as few long distance calls as possible, and by keeping them short, you can help to speed the nation's business of winning this war. Thank you!

War calls  come first!

HONDO, TEXAS, OCT. 2, 1942

Washington Snapshots by JAMES PRESTON

While suppressed emotions smoldered under the big Capitol dome, unprecedented activity swiftly followed the President's demand for Congressional action to curb inflation.

Brand new or previously pigeon-holed bills were jammed into the legislative hopper in the race for first place on the administration's deadline.

—WSS—
At a special Sunday session Senate and House Democratic leaders agreed on the general form of a broad joint resolution described as giving the President "all the power he needs" to stabilize farm prices and wages.

On Monday Congress received two measures to complete for enactment before October 1st.

The Senate bill, for Banking and Currency Committee consideration, calls for stabilization of farm prices and industrial wages at about present levels, with Presidential authority to adjust, both upward and downward, to eliminate "gross inequalities."

The House bill, presented by Representative Steagall, Banking and Currency Committee Chairman, would peg farm prices at 100 percent of a new and higher parity which would include, as a factor, the average of industrial and farm wages. With farm prices and wages tied together, the bill would enact, for the duration and three years afterward, provisions for mandatory Government loans at 100 percent of parity on basic and non-basic agricultural commodities.

—WSS—
"Blank check" opposition, however, already is developing. Senator Taft of Ohio has introduced a bill to set up an economic control board with complete power over all elements entering into the cost of living. Representative Bitter of Pennsylvania is sponsoring another measure. And there are indications that within a few days a bill to carry out the Baruch plan to freeze all elements in the economy will be offered.

—WSS—
Those who interpret the President's demands as an ultimatum to the independent legislative branch of the government say that Congress now has three choices:

(1) To take matters in its own hands and spell out a series of formulae for controlling all factors in the cost of living, including wages.

(2) To adopt a single resolution authorizing the President to handle any of the problems as he may best determine, or

(3) To ignore the President's demand; pass no legislation, and permit the Chief Executive to make good his threat to act without additional legislative authority.

—WSS—
While the many bills that are under consideration in both the Senate and the House vary greatly in principle and detail, the trend is undoubtedly in the right direction because we shall eventually get a bill the purpose of which will be some kind of control over inflation. The President wants it, the Congress wants it, business wants it, the public wants it. Continued uncertainty in the situation is greatly aggravating matters and it is high time that specific measures were taken. What are we waiting for?

THE WAR

A summary of the past week's war events reviewed by The National Editorial Association Defense Advisory Committee in cooperation with the Office of Government Reports.

FOR RELEASE SEPT. 29, 1942.

Rubber Administrator Jeffers, acting on two important recommendations of the Baruch Rubber Committee, directed the Office of Defense Transportation to limit driving speeds to 35 miles an hour and told the Office of Price Administration to prepare to ration gasoline throughout the nation on the same basis that it is now rationed in the East.

The limitation on speed will go into effect October 1 for all vehicles except those operated by common carriers. Common carriers—trucks and buses operated on regular schedules over regular routes—will be given until October 15 to adjust their schedules to the new top speed. Enforcement of the new speed limit will be left up to the states for the present, ODT announced.

Nationwide gasoline rationing—designed to reduce mileage so as to save rubber rather than gasoline—will become effective about November 22, Price Administrator Henderson reported. By that time ration books will have been distributed to approximately 20 million motorists in the unrationed area. The present rationing program will be integrated with the new gasoline rationing program and tires on all cars will have to be submitted to OPA for "on-wheel inspection every 60 days to insure proper care."

The OPA said fuel oil consumers in the 30 rationed east and midwest states will have to get along this winter with one-third less oil than usual because the originally announced cut of one-fourth would not be sufficient. On the basis of last winter, however—which was about 10 percent warmer than usual—the cut will only be about 26 percent, the Office said. The quota of new adult bicycles for rationing in October was set at 88,000, compared with the September quota of 90,000.

Gen. MacArthur's Headquarters in Australia reported September 28 that U. S. Army Flying Fortresses hit and probably sank a 15,000-ton merchantman in an attack on the enemy base at Rabaul. It was the fourth straight day of attack by the fortresses on the biggest enemy base in the Australian zone. In the previous raids the bombers probably sank an 8,000-ton ship, and scored direct hits on three medium-sized ships. Australian forces supported by new artillery were reported driving the Japanese from their outposts in the Owen Stanley Mountains, 32 air miles from the Allied base of Port Moresby. Heavy rains complicated the Japanese supply problem.

The U. S. Marines in the Solomons, sometimes outnumbered 10 to 1 by the enemy, have beaten off all attacks and their positions remain secure, Marine Headquarters in the Islands announced. Reinforcements and supplies have reached the Marines. U. S. Army Bomber Commander Eaker in London stated U. S. and British airmen will work together in day and night raids to give Germany a long winter of bombing. He said, "I believe it is possible to destroy the enemy from the air. There is hardly a corner of Germany we cannot reach."

War Production

Maritime Commission Chairman Land, in a progress report to President Roosevelt, said that from September 27, 1941, through this month deliveries of completed ships will total 488, aggregating about 5,450,000 deadweight tons. "September deliveries to date and those scheduled to October 1 total 90 ships of approximately one million deadweight tons, an average of three ships a day. Scheduled deliveries for the remaining three months of 1942 should bring us to the 8,000,000-ton goal of your directive," Admiral Land told the President. He also said the 1942 directive of 16,000,000 deadweight tons "appears reasonably certain of accomplishment."

War production Chairman Nelson said "Right now approximately 40 percent of our entire production is going for war. By the middle of next year that proportion has got to be around 60 percent." WPB Vice Chairman Knowlson said at present war production is three and one-half times that of 10 months ago. "We're beginning to recognize the truth of the situation, to know we've been behind the eight-ball," he said.

Transportation

WPB Chairman Nelson directed the Office of Defense Transportation to set up a priorities system governing movements and use of all tank cars, with priorities to be given, first, to shipments of materials for the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission and the Lend-Lease Administration; second, to 390 specifically listed chemicals, foods and other essential products; and third, to petroleum and petroleum products into the Eastern shortage area. The ODT said congestion on rail and bus lines over the week-end is still growing. Weekly passenger travel must be shifted from the week-end to the middle of the week by at least another 8 percent, the Office said.

Food Requirements

Agriculture Secretary Wickard said that unless the nation acts promptly and with energy "our food situation will become serious. Our supply is rapidly diminishing." He outlined a six-point program to help alleviate the farm labor shortage, included were proposals to retain on farms as many as possible of the experienced managers who understand year-round farm operation, to transport workers to farms, and to use greater numbers of women and young people on farms. He estimated agriculture would lose 1,000,000 workers between July 1, 1942, and July 1, 1943, if an 8,000,000-man Army is mobilized by the latter date.

In order to implement the wartime meat program, the WPB Food Requirements Committee: (1) placed the limit of total packer-deliveries during the last quarter of 1942 at the following percentages of such deliveries during the final quarter of 1941—beef and veal, 80 percent; lamb and mutton, 95 percent; and pork, 75 percent. The Committee asked all civilians to hold their meat consumption to 2 1/2 pounds per person per week.

Printing Prices

The OPA set ceiling prices for the sales of 175 printed products, as well as for the printing services used in producing them. The regulation covers services for and sales of such articles as greeting cards, loose-leaf binders and fillers, tablets, pads, composition books, etc. The articles and services listed by the regulation are exempt from all price control, however, when sold by printers whose total gross sales in 1941 of printing and printed paper products were $20,000 or less. The regulation covers about 25 percent of the industry's $2,500,000 volume of business.

The Armed Forces

The Army issued a call for 3-A men up to and including the age of 44 to volunteer for anti-aircraft officer training. A nationwide quota of 500 such candidates per month was set for the anti-aircraft school at Camp Davis, N. C. Selective Service local boards will supply detailed information, the Army said.

War Secretary Stimson announced the Canadian-Alaskan military highway will be ready for use about December 1, several months ahead of schedule. Ballot applications have been sent to soldiers overseas and in Army camps in this country, the War Department announced. The Department said members of the Army Nurse Corps will not be permitted to resign because of marriage unless replacements are available.

Navy Secretary Knox announced a new Navy recruiting drive, ending October 3, in connection with the launching of the new aircraft carrier Lexington September 26. A new training station for seaboys (Navy construction battalions), accommodating 26,000 officers and men and constituting the Navy's largest construction training station, will begin operation about October 15 on the York River near Williamsburg, Va.

SIX-MAN FOOTBALL DISTRICT ORGANIZED

Austin, Texas, Sept. 29.—Twenty-eight districts have been organized for six-man football competition under the University of Texas Inter-scholastic League program for this year, according to an announcement of districting by Rodney J. Kidd, director of athletics for the League.

"We have a tremendous upswing in six-man football interest this season," Kidd declared, "probably due to the fact that many of the smaller schools are finding cost of equipment prohibitive for the full-fledged football program and are using this as a substitute."

Among the 28 districts announced by Kidd No. 25 holds the chief local interest, it being composed of the following schools: Asherton, Barksdale, Big Wells, Camp Wood, D'Hanis, Dilley, LaCoste and Yancey.

LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Monday, September 28, 1942

San Antonio, Sept. 28.—HOGS, Estimated salable and total receipts 900. Trading in the San Antonio hog division Monday developed on an active basis with prices listed mostly 25c higher than Friday's average for Good and Choice butchers scaling 180 lbs. and above. Limited supplies lighter weights appeared mostly steady. A top of $14.25 took the bulk of Good and Choice 180-270 lb. averages. Scattered sales comparable grade 160-180 lbs. came in at $13.50-14.25. Sows ranged from $13.00-13.25. Feeder pigs met rather uneven outlets as prices indicated strong to 25c or more higher. Good and Choice 80-120 lb. replacements cashed at $12.50-13.25.

CATTLE: Estimated salable and total receipts 1,500; CALVES 4,100. In view of increased receipts, Monday's cattle trade was somewhat slow to get under way. Loads and small lots Common and Medium grass steers and yearlings were about steady at $9.00-11.50.

Cow sales looked fully steady with late last week and some strictly good lots 10-15c higher. Common and Medium beef kinds earned $8.00-9.00 and several good lots secured $9.25-9.85, odd head $10.00. Most Canners and Cutters claimed $5.50-7.75. Sausage bulls developed on a steady trend at $8.00-9.75. A large percentage of calves sold to killers at fully steady rates. Good and Choice selections earned $11.25-12.00, few $12.25, with Common and Medium at $9.00-11.00 and Culls $7.00-9.00.

A lower undertone prevailed on stocker calves early but an active outlet into slaughter channels forced a steady basis for replacements. Good and Choice steer calves ranged from $11.50-12.50 with heifers at $10.50-11.50.

SHEEP: Estimated salable and total receipts 1,700. Monday's trade found sheep listed on a steady to strong basis. Medium and Good No. 2 pelt wethers secured $6.50-6.65. A load Cull and Common freshly shorn ewes and wethers had to go at $3.75. Woolled ewes reached $4.25 with Culls at $3.25. Goats looked about steady as fresh shorn Angoras claimed $3.00-3.50.

to the rank of an important patriotic service.

"Lower insurance costs to the property owner have inevitably followed successful fire prevention. Our firemen have been the leaders in teaching us the practice of fire prevention—practices which have reduced our fire insurance costs.

"These firemen of ours have constantly improved their own training and sought to keep their equipment in the best possible condition; they have extended full cooperation in fire prevention studies in our schools; training in fire drills; investigations; vigilant fire prevention in the removal of hazards that jeopardize the safety of our property; and have sought in every manner possible to reduce both fires and the cost of fire insurance.

"There never has been a slackening in the training and preparation of our firemen. If anything, they have redoubled their efforts to protect us against losses—fighting with their backs to the wall. All of our fire fighting organizations in Texas are to be commended on the courage and ability of their men.

"Whenever fire insurance costs have been lowered, whether by good fire record credits, lower key rates, or lower rate schedules on various classes of property, the firemen are justly entitled to a good measure of credit for such reductions.

"The importance of work done by fire chiefs, fire marshals and the firemen themselves cannot be underestimated. Then too, city officials who have accepted the responsibility and recognized the serious need for adequate protection, are to be commended fully for their part in supplying the fire department with adequate fire fighting equipment.

"Texas today enjoys the lowest insurance rates in history. Thanks to the excellent work of firemen in teaching us fire prevention and reducing our fire losses. However, we must not stop here. We are faced with serious conditions on the fire front. We must keep our fire losses low, and make them even lower if possible.

"Our fire departments are faced with the problem of reduced manpower. The war has drawn many of our best trained firemen into the armed service, while others have assumed duties in important war production plants. The best we can do will be to extend our fullest cooperation to our fire departments and the men who protect our homes."

THE PETAELED BOUGH

From the cherry bough
The bluebird flew
And shook white petals
Down on you.
Some I whisked
From your hair in play,
But those on your cheek
I kissed away.

A tingling thrill...
Then breath that stirred
Like the beating heart
Of a timorous bird—
Now any day
In the wildest weather
Find us beneath it
Close together.
